Former Resident Of Champion Passes

MATILDA LEBSACK

Mrs. Matilda Lebsack, beloved wife of Charles Lebsack, passed away quietly at her home 1107 19th Ave. N.W., Calgary, on July 25, 1957, following a lengthy illness. Born Matilda Daubert, at Jugo-dnaja, Russia, May 24, 1911, she came to Canada with her parents in 1912. In 1929 she married Charles Lebsack of Champion, where they resided on their farm until moving to Calgary in 1953.

Mrs. Lebsack was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, formerly at Vulcan, where she was an active worker in the Sunday School and W.S.W.S. of which she was president. After moving to Calgary, she entered the work at Salem E.U.B. Church, where she was also president of the W.S.W.S. until she was no longer able to carry on the work, due to her poor health.

Funeral services were conducted from Foster's Garden Chapel, Monday, July 29, at 2 p.m., by Rev. F. W. Snyder of Salem E.U.B. Church, assisted by the Sextette of the church choir; and Mrs. H. F. Reinhardt who sang "The Eastern Gate." The large attendance testified to the love and high esteem in which Mrs. Lebsack was held by her many friends and relatives.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, Norman of Champion, Richard of Calgary; two daughters, Marion and Diane of Calgary, and one granddaughter. Also surviving are two brothers, Henry Daubert of San Francisco, Calif., and John Daubert of Calgary, and one sister, Mrs. Lillian King of San Francisco.

Pall bearers were Samuel Lebsack, Norman Morasch, Henry Befus, Edward Repp, Victor Lebsack and Alex Goodman. Interment was made in the Garden of the Last Supper in Mountain View Memorial Gardens.

Vulcan Witnesses Attend Assembly

The Vulcan Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses moved "en masse" to Edmonton, Alta., last week to attend the five-day district assembly at the grandstand in the Edmonton Exhibition Grounds. On Sunday, July 28, the assembly attendance rose to 9,824 to make this the largest religious convention held in the Province of Alberta. Principal speaker was Percy Chapman of Toronto, Superintendent of Ministers and Evangelists for Jehovah's Witnesses in Canada. For his main discourse, Mr. Chapman spoke on the subject, "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near."

Amuel McKee, presiding minister of the Vulcan congregation, reported: "We had a most interesting and stimulating time. Altogether 34 different speakers discussed 38 Bible subjects. At a time when faithlessness and delinquency is so wide-spread, we feel it is important to turn people back to respect for the Bible."

At a mass Baptismal ceremony held Friday morning, 222 new ministers were baptized. An item of interest too, was the release by Mr. Chapman of Volume III of the New World Translation, a new Bible translation in modern English.

In his main discourse, "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near," Mr. Chapman said: "Recognize the curative power of the great heavenly Physician, Jehovah, and avail yourself now of the healing that has drawn near to all people of all the nations, through his Kingdom by Jesus Christ."

Win Two, Lose One

Elks In Third Place At End of Schedule

Vulcan Elks, in Foothills Wheatbelt league play this past week, won games from both the league-leading Calgary Dodgers and the second-place Granum White Sox and in the second game of the doubleheader against Granum lost by a narrow one-run margin. The wins consolidated the Elks' hold on third place and puts them into the playoffs against the second-place team, which could be either Granum or Calgary. First game of this playoff will be at Vulcan next Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 6 p.m.

Vulcan 7, Calgary 6
In a game that was called because of darkness at the end of the 7½ innings, Vulcan batters came up with three home runs, each time with a man aboard. Chuck Dailey, pitcher turned outfielder, powered two circuit blasts over the left field fence. The other, by Augie Scornienchi, went over in virtually the same spot.

Dodgers picked up three runs in the first inning and two in the third, but Vulcan also got two runs in each of these innings. In the first, Loughlin got a walk and then Scornienchi powered one over the fence. In the third, Dodgers got a head by 5-2 when a Bassen double, coupled with three Vulcan errors was good for a pair of tallies.

But the Elks kept pecking away. Once again a walk, this one to Scornienchi, cost McIntosh an extra run when Dailey blasted his first round-tripper in the third frame. A Laughlin single followed by Art Alvarez' double in the fourth was good for another run before Dailey put Vulcan in a 7-5 lead with his second homer of the evening in the fifth-inning.

Vulcan starter Jim Houck was nicked for seven hits in the 7½ innings he worked before Doug Marquardt came in to preserve the victory.

Vulcan 10, Granum 2

A good crowd was on hand Sunday as Marty Norman's Vulcan crew took an easy victory in the opener and, fighting to the last pitch, almost grabbed the second game too.

In the first game, the Elks collected 12 hits off losing pitcher Willie Wolosko and reliever Pat Gillick, even though Wolosko had nine strike-outs and Gillick three. Winning pitcher Doug Marquardt struck out three and walked four.

Ben Dann paced the Vulcan attack with a homer, a double and single in four tries with catcher Augie Scornienchi collecting two doubles and a single. Chuck Dailey chipped in with two singles and Don Jantzie a double and single.

Gord Vejprava tripled and singled for the White Sox. Pat Gillick picked up a single and double and Jim Lester a double.

Elks almost squeezed through in the last inning to take the second game too, but reliever Dave Gambee got Doug Vickers to fly out with the bases loaded and Granum managed to capture the second game by the one-run margin.

Ken Burns was the winning moundsman over Chuck Dailey who was relieved in the ninth by Marty Norman. Burns recorded five strikeouts and walked seven. Dailey walked two and struck out four.

Bob Carlson and Harry Blacker collected a double and single each for Granum while Gord Vejprava, Dorm Martin and Burns all singled twice.

Itch Horton tripled and doubled twice for Elks. Dailey and Jantzie added a pair of singles apiece.

Attend Family Reunion in Ontario

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Jantzie have returned to their home at Vulcan after a vacation spent in Ontario.

While there they attended a reunion of the Jantzie family at which over 900 descendants of three or five Jantzie brothers who landed in New York in 1835, were present.

The re-union was held at New Hamburg Park and owes its success to the organization ability of the younger generation of Jantzie descendants who have become very interesting in the background of their family.

While returning home on July 16, the Jantzie car was in collision with a car which entered at Water-sweet, Mich. The occupants of both cars miraculously escaped serious injury, but Mr. and Mrs. Jantzie were detained for eleven days at Bassemmer, Mich., while the extensive damage to their car was being repaired.

Little League Finals

No-hit, No-run Game Defeats Wheatbelt Allstars

The Taber Kiwanis Little League Allstars defeated the Wheatbelt Allstars 1-0 at Carmangay on Monday in a sudden death game to decide which team travelled to Trail, B.C., to advance in the North American Little League playoffs.

Uyesgui, the Taber hurler, pitched a six-inning no-hit, no-run game for the victory and also lashed out a long triple in the last of the sixth inning to score Parvis from first base with the winning run. Shultz of Brant, hurling for the Wheatbelt All-Stars, allowed only two hits until the final frame when two more hits accounted for the lone run; and struck out twelve batters to nine whiffs for Uyesgui.

Starting line up for the Wheatbelt club were Schultz and Maisey from Brant, Chow and Boutland from Vulcan, Smith and Hilz of Champion, Greene of Carmangay and Ford and Annabelle from Barons.

Regular Meeting Women's Society

The W.S.W.S. met at the home of Mrs. Con. Deal on July 24. Mrs. Chas. Budd was in charge of the entire meeting. Mrs. E. Delmest very ably presented the first two chapters of the study book, "Christian Faith Encounters Communism." Manuals of Spiritual Living were presented to each of the members present.

During the business session it was reported that food and dish towels had been sent to the summer camp. The secretary of Christian Social Relations reported that eight sick visits had been made and one card had been sent.

The new work projects were presented and it was decided that these be finished so that the missionaries receive them in time for Christmas.

Mrs. Deal served a very delicious lunch. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Schierman.

Jay Scott Enjoying Scout Jamboree In England

Queen Scout Jay Scott, attending the World Scout Jamboree in England, describes the first part of his trip and stay in England in a letter received this week by The Advocate. Further letters from Jay will be published as they are received.

Jubilee Jamboree, Sutton Coal Park, England, August 3, 1957.

Editor, The Advocate,

We are having a great time here in England, after an eighteen hour trip from Edmonton. We stopped at Goose Bay and then on to Presswick and down the coast to London. We were supposed to have crossed the north pole, but due to bad weather conditions we didn't get that far north.

On arriving in London we were greeted by English Scouters and taken direct to the Jamboree by train. We spent a day and a half getting settled down.

On August 1, H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, officially opened the Jamboree. This was a real spectacle with 35,000 Scouts in one arena surrounded by thousands of spectators.

August 3, we went on a tour of Sheffield. We were entertained by the Scouts of Sheffield and after being taken around the city they took us to their homes for dinner. I was lucky to stay with a lady who had lived in Vancouver and moved here to England. She was glad to see Canadians and treated us like kings.

Well, that is the news up to now. Yours truly, Jay Scott.

Former Vulcan Girl Married

A wedding of local interest took place recently at Ritchie United Church, Edmonton, when Lill Bogner, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bogner of Trochu, became the bride of Donald Alexander Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rutherford of Edmonton. Rev. Winfield D. Pace officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Tom Bogner of Vulcan, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes Bogner and by Miss Shirley Rutherford, sister of the groom. Best man was Patrick Ledgerwood and wedding music was by Mrs. W. Caine, with vocals by Miss Geraldine Renolds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cathayan Banquet Rooms. The toast to the bride was given by Henry Flock of Red Deer.

Following a honeymoon spent at Jasper and Banff the young couple have taken up residence in Drayton Valley.

Newfoundland offers some of the finest angling for Atlantic Salmon, king of game fish.

Anderson-Anderson Rites At Champion

The Champlippen United Church was the setting for the marriage of Frances Delene Anderson to Plenny Harold Anderson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson of Champion and the groom the son of Mrs. Lydia Anderson and the late Clarence R. Anderson of Carmangay. Rev. W. J. Huston performed the double-ring-rites before the altar decorated with spray mums and pink carnations. Palms and candleabra adorned the arches. The pews were tied with white satin bows and in the centre of each a spray of white mums.

As the brides' mother entered the church Dianne Monner of Milo sang the "Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Helen Mahoney played the organ. During the signing of the registrar, Dianne sang, "God Hath Not Promised."

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, chose a gown of white lace and nylon net over bridal satin. Tiers of net, edged with lace fell gracefully over a crinoline hoop. Her finger-tip veil of illusion net, edged with lace fell from her cap which was covered with seed pearls and sequins. The bouquet she carried was camellias and red rose buds.

Proceeding the bride down the aisle were the matron of honor, Mrs. Jean Shearer, sister of the bride, Miss Jeanette Anderson, sister of the groom and Miss Edna Smith. They wore identical gowns of shrimp nylon chiffon. Their small hats and mitts matched their gowns and they carried a cascade of shrimp tinted carnations.

Best men were David Shearer and Kenneth Anderson. Charles

Anderson and Glen Anderson, brothers of the groom, ushered the guests to their pews.

A reception was held in the Champion Community Hall. Receiving the guests were the bride's mother and father and the groom's mother. The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a beige pink flowered dress covered with beige duster with brown and beige accessories. Her corsage was yellow rose buds. The groom's mother chose a pink flowered dress with a rust duster with pink and brown accessories. Her corsage was also yellow rose buds.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake centered in pale blue tulle in which there were red rose buds. Two arches of white roses and lily of the valley flanked by silver tapers graced either end of the table.

David Shearer was master of ceremony and the toast to the bride was given by B. F. Cool with the groom responding.

For travelling the bride changed to a blue suit which matched the groom's. She wore pink and white accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds.

The young couple motored to Yellowstone Park and Spokane, Wash., for their honeymoon. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home in Lethbridge.

Out-of-town guests were from Spokane, Wash., Calgary, Lethbridge, Carmangay, Vulcan, Medicine Hat, Maple Creek, Sask., Innisfail, Magrath, Leavitt, Barons and Turin.

A Man Worthy Of A National Memorial

With the death of C. S. Noble, Alberta loses the one man who above all others led the way to more productive farming methods under Alberta weather and soil conditions. This is not hearsay evidence with us. We watched his trials and errors develop from year to year. Thirty years ago his big farm east of Nobleford — the village that bears his name — was an international attraction. Hundreds of farmers and agricultural scientists visited the place. They wanted to find out how he produced thirty bushels of wheat to the acre while neighboring farms were producing only fifteen to twenty bushels of wheat to the acre... and he really was doing it, consistently, year after year. His farming methods soon set the pattern for all southern Alberta, and it was good that they did. He suffered serious financial losses in some of the bad years, but he was always able to outlast the storms that beset him. Implement firms placed their newest devices at his disposal for testing. When the combine harvester made its appearance he was one of the first to recognize what it could mean to the farmer. We visited his farm in a harvest season, probably about 1928, when Mr. Noble was operating five 16-foot Holt combines, one behind the other, on a two thousand acre 'patch' of wheat. Every mile those combines travelled they cut and threshed ten acres of wheat, and the crop that year was running between 40 and 50 bushels to the acre. With our party that day was Nick Taitinger, many times a winner of World Champion Barley honors at Chicago. Nick and C. S. were kindred spirits. They lived not too far apart. Mr. Noble met problems and solved them. He could see that a summerfallow mulch was the thing required to hold the moisture in the soil from one season to the next. He first advocated fine cultivation, only to have the disastrous winds come along and blow the top soil away. He knew his theory was right, for he had the late Dr. Fairfield and Mr. Palmer of the Lethbridge Dominion Experimental Station to confer with him. By observation and deduction it was easy to conclude that a mulch with vegetable fibre in it would withstand the high winds. Hence the Noble wide blade sub-surface cultivator. The stubble, the fibre, the trash, or what have you, remained in the top layer of the soil and defied the winds and held the moisture content of the soil from rapid "transpiration," or evaporation. We knew a farmer at Claresholm, Ashley Shearer, who was quick to adopt the new farming methods and set up a similar example for his neighbors to follow. At first many of his neighbors seemed to think Shearer had better luck, or something, then one by one they copied his methods and found themselves in the high production bracket. All this was but a reflection of C. S. Noble's scientific pioneering. Noble would get the odd "bug" in his head, too. During a string of dry years in the twenties he got on a certain type of rye that could be seeded in the fall and hold down the drifting soil. It would do that all right, but the world market could not absorb too much rye grain. He grew a big crop of this rye in 1920 and was retailing it out as $4.00 a bushel to the distressed farmers. We were farming and losing money on a big scale that year and were beset by many economic pitfalls, but we did have twenty acres of common rye that threshed out in an exceptional grade. Farmers close to us came and begged for a few bushels at $3.00 a bushel, so indirectly, Noble did us a good turn. But the rye scheme soon died out. Ed. Schnell should get a kick out of this, for when Noble first broke the sod on the five thousand acres he acquired he used a big Reeves steamer, pulling ten or twelve breaker bottom plows. Noble was one of the few big farmers that survived the Reeves tractor experience. It not only broke up the land but it broke most of the farmers who got caught in the financial web. Very few people living outside the area could have a proper appreciation of the volume of which his implement manufacturing business had attained. We are told that it gave steady employment to about one hundred and fifty men. Noble's implements are well known in the Camrose area, but his market distributed them to many parts of the United States and to other foreign countries. Noble's career is too near for history to adopt a proper perspective, but we have seen great monuments erected to many men who have contributed less to the welfare and happiness of mankind.

Of Many Things

By Ambrose Hills

I HAVEN'T TIME

An acquaintance of mine is an avowed socialist, a doctrine which, as preached politically, has always struck me as immoral, so I was glad to have a go at him in an argument this morning.

On discovering that I write for a living, he said, rather smugly, "I've often intended to write — have quite a flair for it."

"Why don't you?" I asked. "I've no time," he sighed. "No time at all."

I had just finished reading an article by Margaret Blair Johnson in Guideposts magazine, in which there was a striking quotation from the famous Leonardo da Vinci, who accomplished so much. Leonardo-da Vinci said, "Time stays long enough for those who use it."

Isn't it true that Time is a commodity available to each and every human soul in the same quantity? We are all born with that same inheritance — 24 hours each day. No more, no less. For some, it never stays long enough. Others — like da Vinci, or Churchill, or Eisenhower or Diefenbaker make full use of it and succeed.

Socialists hate such an analogy. It is too apt for their liking. It is a truth we are all familiar with — for we all know some fellow who makes an hour pay off while another fritters it away. Fortunately, however, no law on earth can make us share the hours according to our need — or a Lazy Bones I know would have 36 hours for his day while busy folk like you and I would be cut to 12.

My avowed socialist friend is a simple fellow. He thinks he embraced socialism because of charity. I tell him that there is not a thing in the world to stop him practising socialism now — all he needs to do is share what he has with others. But this does not appeal to him. He apparently wishes, through a process of law, to have the sharing out done only by those who are two or three thousand dollars a year more productive than he is. I suppose what he really wants is to force others to practise socialism while he reaps the benefits but does none of the contributing. Also, he expects that when socialism becomes the vogue, he will be among the rulers.

In all this he sees nothing immoral — because he does not wish to see.

BANKERS ADVISE

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give them a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building up your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a 2-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business men."

Anyone who has been enjoying holidays, visiting friends, or having guests of their own and would not mind having them mentioned in the Lomond news would you please let your correspondent know.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Purkiss have started their return trip to their home in California, after spending a couple of weeks at the homes of Mrs. D. C. McAlister and Donald and Mr. and Mrs. A. McAlister and family.

Farewell Party

A large number of friends gathered in the Lomond Community Hall on Tuesday evening to join in a farewell party held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Craig and son James who have resided in the Armada and Lomond district the past 19 years. Mr. and Mrs. Craig will move to their new residence in Bassano on Monday. A very pleasant evening was spent dancing to Fraser's Orchestra and playing cards. Miss E. Bell was in charge of the guest book.

The presentations were made by Pete Stokes, president of the Curling Club; Miss Leona Vooyes, president of the Good Will Service Club, and then Reg Frost, with some very well chosen words presented Mr. and Mrs. Craig and Jim with a purse of money on behalf of all those present, to which the Craigs most suitably responded.

A very lovely lunch was then served in the hall kitchen, bringing to a close a most pleasant evening. Needless to say this family will be very much missed in this community by young and old alike and we take this opportunity to wish them the best of luck in their new home.

EDWARD BROWN

Funeral services for the late Edward Brown, age 81, of Lomond, were held in the Jacques Funeral Home, Calgary, on Tuesday, July 30. Rev. R. McKay Esler officiated at the services with interment in the family plot at Union Center, Calgary.

Mr. Brown was a pioneer of the Lomond district, homesteading here in 1908. He was born in Auckinheath, Scotland, and was preceded by his wife, Helen, in Calgary, 1948.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Chapman, Lomond; Mrs. Harry Taylor, Fort McLeod; and Mrs. Carmen Vader, Calgary. Two sons, William A. Brown of Lomond and Wallace of Calgary. One brother, Hugh of Calgary; ten grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Majorville

Members of the Lutheran WMF please note that the regular monthly meetings will resume on August 14, at the home of Pastor and Mrs. Foster in Lomond.

Last weekend Burton and Helen Hingley of Champion accompanied by Bert and Betty Clemmons went to a good fishing spot west of Pincher Creek but couldn't get to it as a forest fire was raging out of control in that vicinity, so they headed for the Highwood where the fish were alerted of their coming by the large number of fishermen there ahead of them so the trout, they were going to bring home are still swimming around in the lake.

Then on Wednesday Burton and his family visited at Majorville with his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wellman and didn't leave for home until quite late. On Thursday morning a member of the Lions Club called at their home to tell Burton to come to town to take delivery of the trailer he had won the night before. Burton had a ticket on a trailer the Lion's raffled off and it was the lucky one, so now the Hingley's and may-be members of their crowd will go camping and fishing in style. Congratulations, Burt, it couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

Barry Corbell of Cluny stayed with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Heather while his parents spent a few days at a Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Winch left during the week for Edmonton, where they will spend a few days visiting with relatives. They will be accompanied home by Margaret who has been visiting in Edmonton for the past ten days.

Bobby Scott spent a few days last week in Brooks undergoing treatment for back injuries he received in a fall during haying operations.

Will Francis entered Vulcan hospital on Tuesday and underwent an operation on Wednesday morning. He is reported to be progressing favorably. Best wishes for a speedy recovery are sent his way. The piano tuner was in the district this week working over the instruments, so sweeter music should float over the prairie as a result of his visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simard of Vancouver, B.C., were recent guests at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Mabel Hagg. Joe, Jr., had been with his paternal grandparents at Cluny for a time previous to the arrival of his parents. He had arrived at Calgary by plane to enable him to have a longer visit. The Simard's also visited with relatives in Edmonton before leaving for the coast and home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bertsch were visitors to Shelby, Mon., during the week.

Mrs. Bartsch left on Friday evening for Kaslo, B.C., after receiving word that her twin sister had suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Prentice accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gerding of Milo, to Vancouver, B.C., for two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Will Francis won the bean guessing contest at the shower in Milo honoring Miss Lois Kennedy. Mrs. Francis' guess of 2300 was the nearest to the answer of 2307. She with the runner-up Maxine Deitz also signed a scroll with advice good and otherwise to be used by the bride-to-be in her new future so if Bill Deitz finds the going rough after the honeymoon, he knows where to lay the blame.

After the news was in the mail last week Alf Heather phoned to report frost damage to his garden, frost damage so early in the season is surely unusual. Later in the week it was found out that several gardens had been hit. West of the store Irvin Sulcut and Stan Godkin reported frost on the same night, July 28. Geo. Heather was also in the frost area. Beans, corn, tomatoes, potatoes and other tender vegetables were damaged, whether there would be any damage to crops was uncertain.

Electrical storms beginning on Wednesday brought showers to the district, some places report downpours others only a sprinkle or light showers, then on Friday afternoon hail was reported from some places west of the post office but the extent of the damage isn't known. The place Bill Francis farms to the east also had some hail as did the east place of Geo. Kimele. On the Russell Mills place hail was still standing an hour and a half after the storm. There was no wind, so that likely helped lessen the damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Gore are on a fishing trip in the Foothills.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Heather and Larry down from Calgary to attend the wedding of Jack Long and Sheila Nelson at Queenstown were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Deitz.

Motorists will find many new roads in Newfoundland which border lush forest and picturesque terrain.

How An Advertised Article Sold 15 to 1 Over An "Unknown"

Lit Brothers, Philadelphia department store, recently conducted a test to determine the selling power of advertising.

Simmons mattresses, a branded, advertised product, sold 15 to 1 over identical mattresses bearing a fictitious brand label which was unknown to the public.

The store then lowered the price $5 on the mattress with the fictitious label. Simmons mattresses still outsold the "unknown" mattress by 8 to 1.

Later a $10 differential was imposed. Simmons mattresses still outsold the "unknown" by 14 to 13.

Mr. Merchant . . Ask Yourself This Question

"Can I afford to operate a business which is 'unknown' and which sells 'unknown' products?"

Maybe your products are just as good; maybe your store is just as good — or even better — than others. But the Philadelphia department store found that customers don't spend their time in finding out about your store and your products.

The product which tells them is the one that sells them. And the store whose name is a household word, made so by constant, consistent and honest advertising, is the one in "preferred position" by a score of 15 to 1.

Yes, good and honest advertising doesn't cost. IT PAYS!

We knew

we had a "honey" of a car

BUT...

... this year's Pontiac has even us running out of praise for the good looks that have put it at the top as Canada's most wanted car. Could be good styling always comes out on top.

Remember when all the male fashion magazines were full of pink shirts? Store windows blushed pink on every side and, for a little while at least, shirt dealers were very happy. Then the clearance sales began and dealers tried everything they could to dispose of the pink shirts that people weren't buying any more. One more fancy fad had come and gone.

We think there's a moral in this that applies to the car business, too. And when we take a look at Pontiac's sales record this year, we're sure of it. Canadians everywhere appreciate Pontiac's quiet, graceful beauty... the absence of flash and gaudiness. They recognize and appreciate the sort of workmanship in every detail that only General Motors can put into a car. They like the friendly treatment and the efficient service they find whenever they deal with a Pontiac dealer.

But see for yourself as you drive. Just count the Pontiacs... and you'll agree the rising tide of Pontiac popularity is turning into a veritable torrent.

WORKING TOGETHER FOR QUALITY

There is some promise that the 1957 wheat crop may be of better protein quality than it has been for several years. This, if it occurs, will have come about largely because of the weather.

Quite apart from the weather, however, the farmer can use his best efforts and skill to ensure that he will harvest the best possible grade. A combination of these two qualities, high grade and relatively high protein, will help to improve Canada's position in the now highly competitive wheat markets of the world.

WATCHMAN!

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

When the fullness of the time was come God sent forth His Son.

—Galatians 4:4

So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. —Hebrews 9:28

But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat. —II Peter 3:10

Say not my soul, from whence can God relieve my care,

Remember that Omnipotence has servants everywhere.

His method is sublime, His heart profoundly kind,

God never is before His time and never is behind. A.C.F.
